MAYOR PLANTS TREES TO CELEBRATE ARBOR WEEK

Msunduzi Mayor Chris Ndlela darned overalls and picked up a spade, to help plant 50 indigenous trees on Spring Day along the centre island of Old Greytown Road, Pietermaritzburg this morning. Local businessmen John Kidger of Farmyard Organics supported the greening of the city by donating all the growing medium for the project.

The Mayor went on to say how important it is for every one of our citizens to plant trees not just on arbour day alone but throughout the year he continued to mention that these are for every one as trees help give us all oxygen.

As the Mayor was helping out with the planting of these trees he commended the parks and recreation staff on the wonderful job they have been doing throughout our city and making it a beautiful city once again. He added that the fact Mr Tshivhase and his team had done all of this in just one year was amazing , it shows his dedication to what he does and for the city we live in.
