provided further that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to absolve any person from due compliance with the provisions of the regulations.

- (b) Save as is provided in Sub-clause (a), no person shall spoil or waste land reserved under Clause 6 hereof so as to destroy or impair its use for the purpose for which it is reserved, provided that the Responsible Authority may consent to the deposit on such land of waste materials or refuse.

- (c) In giving consent under this clause, the Responsible Authority may impose such conditions as it thinks fit.
- (d) Nothing in this Clause shall be construed as prohibiting the reasonable fencing of the land.
- (e) The streets specified in Clause 6, Part I, Table A, shall not be deemed to be public streets until they or any portion of them are so declared by resolution of the Responsible Authority or are taken over in terms of any law under which the Responsible Authority is authorised to take over streets.

- (b) Each of the public streets hatched red on the map and specified in the Column (1) of the following table (Table C), is hereby declared to be diverted or closed and all public rights therein shall cease from the date on which the proposed street or road to be made on the land, (the number of which is set opposite the number of the existing street in Column (2) of the said table), is declared by the Responsible Authority as is provided for in Sub-clause 7(e), or otherwise is made open to public traffic. The purpose for which the land comprising the street to be closed is to be used is specified in Column (3) of Table C.

(1) Numbers of Streets on Map to be Closed	(2) Numbers of New Streets	(3) Purpose for Which Land is to be Used

provided that

- (i) the Responsible Authority may permit the erection of a building in front of the building line if, on account of the levels of the site, or the propinquity of buildings already in front of the building line or any other special circumstances compliance with the building line would interfere with the development of the site.

(a) The purposes

- (i) for which buildings may be erected and used,
- (ii) for which buildings may be erected and used only with the consent of the Responsible Authority,
- (iii) for which buildings may not be erected and used in each of the Use Zones specified in Table D are shown in the third, fourth and fifth columns of the said Table. (See Page 19).

Provided that

- (i) an existing building, or an existing work which is not in conformity with the provisions of the scheme relating to the erection and use of buildings and the use of land, but is otherwise lawfully erected and used, may be maintained and may be used for its existing use, and subject to the provisions of the scheme other than those relating to the erection and use of buildings and use of land and to Sub-clause (b) hereof, it may be altered, extended or rebuilt upon the same site for the particular trade, business or industry or purpose for which it was then being used. Provided that any existing building which is not in conformity with the provisions of the scheme and notwithstanding the provisions of Clause 22 may not be altered, extended or rebuilt so as to increase its total floor area by an amount exceeding one half (1/2) its total floor area at the material date;

and provided further that where any change occurs in the use of an existing building or land the question whether or not the new use shall be regarded as being of the same character as the previous use shall be decided by the Responsible Authority whose decision shall be final.

- (ii) notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing part of this Sub-clause, where in the case of an existing building or structure, which is being used for the same purpose or a similar purpose to that for which it was used on the 16th November 1955, and such use has been continuous, any application to extend such building or structure is refused by the Responsible Authority on the grounds that it would contravene the provisions of the scheme relating to the use of land and buildings or structures, the applicant concerned may appeal.

- (b) (i) Subject to the consent of the Administrator, the Responsible Authority may, at any time after the date of approval of the scheme, in cases where it is deemed necessary in the public interest, acquire by agreement, any existing building which is not in conformity with the provisions of the scheme, and may use it or dispose of it for any purpose not contravening the scheme. If it is unable to acquire any such building by agreement, it may, with the prior consent of the Administrator and subject to the provisions of Parts II and III of the Provincial and Local Authorities Expropriation Ordinance No.19 of 1945, expropriate same.
- (ii) No person shall use, or cause or allow to be used any building or portion thereof for a use other than that for which it has been erected unless authority therefor has been obtained from the Responsible Authority.
- (iii) (a) Where any application is made to the Responsible Authority for its consent to the erection and use of a building in a use zone in which a building of the type proposed may be erected and used only with the Responsible Authority's consent, the Responsible Authority may give or withhold its consent, and shall, in giving its consent, be entitled to impose such conditions as it may deem fit, governing the erection and use of such building,
- provided that consideration shall be given to the question whether the use for which the building is intended or designed, is likely to cause injury to the amenity of the neighbourhood, including without generality to the foregoing, in the case of an industrial building, injury due to the omission of smoke or fumes, or of dust, noise or smell.
- (b) The applicant, if aggrieved by the decision of the Responsible Authority, or by the imposition of any condition under the preceding Sub-clause, may appeal.
- (iv) In this Clause the expression "erection and use" of a building for a particular use includes the conversion of the building, whether or not involving the structural alteration thereof, to that use.
- (v) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to exempt or excuse compliance with any of the Regulations not inconsistent herewith, nor shall be deemed to apply to any building for which authority is necessary in terms of Part 9 of the Regulations relating to the keeping of animals and birds.

- (a) Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this scheme the Responsible Authority may, where it appears to it that any projected building works or any other proposed work of any nature or description whatsoever would involve danger or injury to health by reason that the land upon which such building works or other proposed works will be carried out includes built-up or water-logged ground, or by reason of the lack of roads, sewers, water supply or any public services and that the provision of the necessary services would be premature or likely to involve excessive expenditure of public money, prohibit such building works or other works or authorise the same subject to specified conditions.
- (b) Where application is made for the subdivision of land which for any one or more of the reasons mentioned in Sub-clause (a) above is deemed by the Responsible Authority to be unsuitable for building purposes, approval of such application shall not be recommended to the Administrator.

Use of Land

- (a) The use of land in a use zone, whether forming the site of a building or not, for a purpose for which in that use zone a building may not be erected or used or may not be erected and used without the consent of the Responsible Authority, shall in the first case be prohibited and in the second case, shall not be commenced without the consent of the Responsible Authority, provided that an existing use of land may be continued.
- (b) No land in any use zone shall be used for the purpose of refuse tipping or sewage disposal without the consent of the Responsible Authority.
- (c) If an application is made to the Responsible Authority for its consent to the use of land for a purpose for which its consent is required, the Responsible Authority may give or withhold its consent, and in giving its consent shall be entitled to impose such conditions governing the use of such land as it may deem fit.
- (d) The applicant, if aggrieved by the decision of the Responsible Authority or by the imposition of any condition under the preceding Sub-clause, may appeal.

Density - Number of Dwelling Houses that may be Erected

- (a) No dwelling house shall be erected on a site having a lesser area than that specified in Table E for the Density Zone in which the site is situated.

TABLE E

Density Zone	Minimum Area per Dwelling House
(1) Rural	Two hectares
(2) Urban	900 m <sup>2</sup>

Provided that

- (i) nothing in this Clause contained shall prevent the erection of a dwelling house on a vacant existing lot,
- (ii) in calculating the area of a site, the area of any public or other right of way or servitude of road, shall not be included in the area of the site for the purpose of this Clause.
- (iii) in calculating the area of a corner lot, the portion thereof cut off by any splay existing or required in accordance with Clause 26 hereof, shall be included in the area of the site for the purpose of this Clause.
- (iv) upon the subdivision of any land falling in a density zone, where any portion thereof is physically separated by the creation of a road required under the Scheme, or will be separated when such road is created, the portions so severed may be regarded as existing lots, provided such portions do not fall below 75% of the minimum area specified in the above table for the density zone in which the land is situated.
- (v) where it is proposed to erect a dwelling house on any piece of land which in terms of this Clause is capable of having further dwelling houses erected on it, the Responsible Authority may call upon the owner thereof to submit for its approval a layout plan showing the siting of such dwelling house and such further dwelling houses or the Responsible Authority may itself prepare and approve such plan. Where such plan is deemed necessary by the Responsible Authority no new dwelling house may be commenced unless it is sited in accordance with an approved layout plan.
- (vi) where it is proposed to erect more than one dwelling house on any piece of land whether in the form of detached or semi-detached dwelling houses, the siting of such houses shall be carried out as if it were intended to subdivide the land and each such dwelling house shall be provided with a site having an independent area of land available to it as required by this Clause and shall conform with the requirements of Clauses 11, 20 and 22; provided that in the case of semi-detached dwelling houses, the provisions of Clause 20 shall apply only to the building as a whole.
- (vii) where it is proposed to erect more than one new dwelling house on land on which any dwelling house already exists without subdividing such land, the siting of such new dwelling house shall be carried out as it were intended to subdivide the land and the existing dwelling house.

and the new dwelling house shall each be provided with a site having an independent area of land available to it as required by this Clause and shall conform with the requirements of Clauses 11 and 22.

(viii) where in any density zone an existing building is demolished or destroyed in any manner whatsoever, to more than half (1/2) its cubic extent it shall be regarded as a new building for the purposes of this Clause.

(ix) Pending the investigation and transferring of any part or parts of the Rural Zone to the Urban Zone within the provisions of Sub-clause (b) below, and if it appears desirable, the Responsible Authority may approve of the subdivision of land in the Rural Zone, such subdivision or subdivisions to be less than two hectares, but not less than 1 800 m<sup>2</sup> in extent, provided that in approving such subdivision or subdivisions, the Responsible Authority shall take into account the following considerations :-

- (i) availability of basic services such as water supply, road access, sanitation, drainage and electricity,
- (ii) the effect of the proposals on the amenities of the neighbourhood,
- (iii) the topography of the land to be subdivided, and
- (iv) any other matters not specifically referred to above; provided further that :-

- (a) any such subdivisions will comply with the other provisions of the scheme in the course of preparation, and
- (b) adequate notice, as provided for in Section 67 bis (2) and (3) of the Ordinance, as amended, shall be given to the public of the intention to subdivide the land in the manner envisaged in Sub-clause (ix) hereof, and any objections shall be received and considered as provided in Section 67 bis (4) of the Ordinance, as amended.
- (c) Within three (3) years of the material date vide Clause 5 hereof, and thereafter at intervals not exceeding three (3) years, the Responsible Authority shall cause an investigation to be made of the development which has been taking place in the Urban Zone since the material date of the scheme, or any subsequent period, as the case may be, to establish the need, (if any), for the enlargement of the Urban Zone.

Upon the completion of such investigation the Responsible Authority, if it is of the opinion that the Urban Zone ought to be enlarged, may by resolution, declare that any part or parts of the Rural Zone shall be transferred to the Urban Zone and thereupon, the provisions of the scheme shall apply to that part, or parts, of the Rural Zone as if it, or they, were included in the Urban Zone on the map, and shall thereupon proceed to amend the Scheme in terms of Section 47 bis of the Ordinance, as amended.

20. Space about Buildings

No new building in any use zone shall be erected nearer to the boundaries of its site, not being road boundaries, than 1,8 m such distance being measured to the external walls of the building, and no subdivision shall be made of any land on which a building or buildings exist whereby any new subdivisional boundary will be laid off nearer than 1,8 m to the external walls of such existing building or buildings.
