1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 The Accommodation Crisis and Universal Accessibility

There is currently a crisis in tertiary student and working people's accommodation in Msunduzi Municipal area of jurisdiction that mirrors the accommodation crisis in South Africa¹. This crisis² stems from the fact the Scottsville, Pelham and the northern areas of Msunduzi have exhausted the residential premises available for accommodation. Consequently approximately 16,000 desperate students are currently seeking accommodation in areas such as Hayfields, Prestbury, Raisethorpe, Napierville and elsewhere which are further way from tertiary institutions. These areas in turn, are also exhibiting shortages in rental accommodation suitable for our young professional government workers, graduates, the working classes, and students seeking accommodation. Hence tertiary students, families with school going children (hereafter learners) and working people, seeking accommodation, are now at the mercy of boarding house owners and some unscrupulous landlords many of whom do not even live in Msunduzi³.

There are growing rifts of various kinds between residents, boarding house owners, business owners, university accommodation officials, working people, students and learners all seeking accommodation in the residential and business precincts particularly in Scottsville, Pelham, and the CBD of Msunduzi. The tensions between the range of accommodation seekers, homeowners and business people stems from various issues such as noise pollution, poor management, illegal "slum lording", property devaluation, overcrowding, poor to no accommodation facilities, and amenity deterioration.

The accommodation crisis in South Africa is exacerbated by barriers to accommodation as a consequence of high levels of poverty and outdated regulatory processes that supported social exclusion and segregation during the apartheid era of South African governance. During the apartheid era, people with disabilities were, and continue to be, excluded from mainstream society, experiencing difficulty in accessing their fundamental human rights. Within this context, there is a strong relationship between barriers to access of services and accommodation for vulnerable women, children, the youth, people with disabilities and poverty.

"Poverty makes people more vulnerable to disability and disability reinforces and deepens poverty. Particularly vulnerable are the traditionally disadvantaged groups in South Africa including, additionally, people with severe mental disabilities, people disabled by violence and war and people with HIV and AIDS" (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015:5)

In the wake of segregationist approaches, to governance, the White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (WPRPD) was developed in the office of the erstwhile Deputy President, Mr Thabo Mbeki, in 1997. Social activists with disabilities put the groundwork to the WPRPD in place through extensive community consultation processes and then "adopted the Disability Rights Charter of South Africa in 1992. This Charter, founded on the principles enshrined in the 1955 Freedom Charter, informed, and continues to inform, the

² The tertiary student and working people's accommodation crisis in Msunduzi Municipal area is discussed in detail in the Status Quo Report of March 2016, covering extensive local public opinion, policy, and international research conducted in support of this Policy document.

³ This policy focus mainly on the crisis in accommodation and the crisis with regard to "Special Residential" areas that are no longer able to cope with the demand for accommodation. The need for a diversified and more in-depth research into the Status quo conditions and requirements of primary and secondary school children, farm labourers and workers living in peri-urban areas in public and private boarding establishments is way beyond the scope of this policy. It is recommended that an in-depth study of this domain be undertaken so that a more nuanced set of policies can be developed.

promotion and protection of the rights of persons with disabilities in South Africa” (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015: 5).

The WPRPD of 1997 was reviewed and updated in 2015 and some of the objectives that are relevant to this Policy are to:

- (a) integrate the obligations of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD) and in the Continental Plan of Action for the African Decade of Persons with Disabilities (both of which South Africa has signed), with South Africa’s legislation, policy frameworks and the National Development Plan 2030;
- (b) endorse a mainstreaming trajectory for realising the rights of persons with disabilities;
- (c) provide clarity on and guide the development of standard operating procedures for mainstreaming disability;
- (d) guide the review of all existing, and the development of new, sectoral policies, programmes, budgets and reporting systems to bring these in line with both Constitutional and international treaty obligations; and to
- (e) stipulate norms and standards for the removal of discriminatory barriers that perpetuate the exclusion and segregation of persons with disabilities (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African Office of the Deputy President, 2015:3).

Central to the WPRPD and international approaches to barriers to municipal and social facilities are the concepts of Universal Accessibility and Universal Design. Universal Accessibility and Universal Design encompasses access to products and services that are “Usable by all people, to the greatest extent possible, without the need for adaptation or specialized design. For example, sidewalks with curb cuts and doors that automatically open when a person moves near them are examples of universally designed products. They benefit people with disabilities, parents with baby strollers, delivery workers, old people, and others. Characteristics considered in universal designs may include considerations of age, people with disabilities of various kinds, gender, stature, race/ethnicity, culture, native language and learning preference (Source: Adapted from <http://www.washington.edu/doi/> December 2016:1.)

1.2 A Municipal Wide, Boarding House Policy

The purpose of this Policy is to address the crisis in accommodation which calls for the facilitation, regulation, and management of boarding house developments in order to address the impact of such developments on the physical, social, economic, and institutional environment of the Municipality. While By-laws and Town Planning Schemes are effective regulatory tools, policies are required in support of By-laws and Scheme based Zoning regulations. This stems from the fact that policies provide for more detailed, norms, standards and operational rules to government officials and the public that have to be complied with across the entire Msunduzi area of jurisdiction which includes the rural, peri-urban and urban areas within the official Municipal boundary irrespective of who the land owners may be.

1.3 Principles, Norms and Policy Implementation

In order for policy to fulfil its normative regulatory role in the context of the entire Msunduzi Municipal area of jurisdiction, policy must unfold in accordance with existing legislation, other relevant policies and the existing Pietermaritzburg and Ashburton Town Planning Schemes. If a policy is in conflict with any legislation and its regulations, the latter takes precedence and the policy becomes irrelevant from a legal perspective. Consequently, land management and the acquisition of development rights for the establishment of boarding houses must be implemented in the following manner:

- i. All officials and role players in the Town Planning and Land Use Management System of the Municipality must implement this Policy in a way that it is compliant with the National Norms of:

- (a) Social, Economic, Environmental, and Administrative Justice informing the rights, duties, and principles applicable to the following sector specific norms as enshrined in the South African Constitution (Act No. 108 of 1996 – hereafter “the Constitution”):
- (b) Spatial justice, equitable education, sustainability, a safe environment, universal access, amenity, respect for local and indigenous knowledge systems and freedom from discrimination in terms of occupation, profession, trade, race, religion, age, gender and sexual orientation.

1.3.2 The implementation of the policy must give effect to:

- (a) Section 156(1) of the Constitution in accordance with Schedules 4B and 5B, since local municipalities are responsible for municipal planning, land management, child care, health and building regulation;
- (b) Section 24 and Section 156(1) of the Constitution entrenching the rights of tenants and all residents of Msunduzi Municipal area to “an environment that is not harmful” and the right of all “to choose their trade, occupation, or profession freely” in a manner which is regulated in terms of the law and municipal planning;
- (c) The Promotion of Administrative Justice Act No 3 of 2000 (PAJA) in accordance with Section 33 of the Constitution and the Intergovernmental Relations Framework Act No 13 of 2005 (IGRA) according everyone in South Africa the right to administrative action which is lawful, procedurally fair, just and accountable. This right includes the right to the provision of written reasons for infringements of PAJA and the imperatives of good governance and efficient administration of municipal responsibilities in accordance with this Policy.
- (d) The Rental Housing Amendment Act 35 of 2014 encompassing the following objectives:
 - i. create mechanisms to promote the provision of rental housing property;
 - ii. promote access to adequate housing through creating mechanisms to ensure the proper functioning of the rental housing market;
 - iii. lay down general principles governing conflict resolution in the rental housing sector;
 - iv. provide for the facilitation of sound relations between tenants and landlords; and
 - v. provide for legal mechanisms to protect the rights of tenants and landlords against illegal actions by the other party by affording speedy means of redress at minimum cost to the parties.’
- (e) In accordance with the Rental Housing Amendment Act 35 of 2014 , the owner who is the landlord, is required to provide for a written lease that is signed and agreed to with the tenant/ occupier and in accordance with this Policy:
 - i. leasehold agreements applicable to each tenant, must accompany the application for the Municipal Consent and approval of a Boarding House and must contain a condition that should the consent be denied, the lease shall be null and void;
 - ii. the land lord is, in accordance with this Policy, the owner of the property; or
 - iii. the landlord is considered to be the Ingonyama Trust Board in accordance with the terms and conditions of the KwaZulu-Natal Ingonyama Trust Amendment Act. No 9 of 1997;
 - iv. all rights and duties of landlords, staff and tenants contained in the Rental Housing Amendment Act 35 of 2014 and particularly clauses relating to health, safety, habitability, maintenance of the property and the financial obligations of the landlord operating the business of rental accommodation, are applicable in this Policy in addition to the norms and standards addressed in this Policy;
 - v. the lease agreement required between tenants and the landlord of the Boarding House must stipulate the duties and responsibilities of landlords, staff and tenants, with regard to the management of the property in relation to this Policy and in relation to municipal services such as refuse disposal, water and electricity payments; and
 - vi. The lease agreement must ensure the maintenance of the property so as to not impinge on the Amenity of the area, the cultural rights of the neighbours or contravene any legislation or Policy such as the National Building Regulations and the National Heritage Resources Act, No. 25 of 1999.

- vii. The landlord, tenants and staff of the Boarding House shall comply with the Pietermaritzburg Noise Control Regulations GR 2544 of 1990 in terms of Section 25 of the Environment Conservation Act No 73. 1989 and hence may not inflict noise pollution upon anyone.

(f) The policy must comply with:

- (a) the town planning imperatives, principles and regulations stemming from the Spatial Land Use Planning Act No 16 of 2013, the Msunduzi SPLUMA By Law of 15 September 2016, Msunduzi Town Planning Schemes and of their subsequent amendments;
- (b) the minimum norms and standards that are prescribed in terms of Sec 3;
- (c) the minimum norms and standards that may be prescribed in terms of Chapter 2 of SPLUMA, the KwaZulu-Natal Planning and Development Act No. 6 of 2008 and Msunduzi SPLUMA By-Law of 2016 and its subsequent amendments;
- (d) policy and legislation addressing Universal Access; and
- (e) Integrated Development Planning, Spatial Frameworks, Capital Investment Plans, Local Development Plans, and policy governing Boarding Houses and the right to environments that are not harmful to any person, fauna or flora including students, work seekers, tenants, homeowners, learners, residents, visitors or any other person within the Msunduzi Municipal area of jurisdiction.

municipal services such as bulk water, energy, lighting roads, sustainable housing, welfare, health care, education and supporting infrastructure delivery. The Constitution of the country places the responsibility on government to ensure that such services are progressively expanded to all, within the limits of available resources (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015: 5).

“Boarding House” means a business conducted by the owner of a property, located in a “Special Residential Zone”, who shall be resident therein. The use shall be limited to being conducted by the applicant, who is the owner of the property and who shall reside on the property as his / her primary residence together with his / her family such as it may consist of from time to time. (Source: Town Planning Appeals Board Ruling on APPEAL NO. 3350 relating to 1 Oban Drive, Scottsville)⁵. In accordance with the Msunduzi Public Health By-law of 2016, a Boarding House is designed for use, or used for human habitation, comprising a number of boarding rooms and associated communal facilities:

- (a) such facilities include a kitchen, ablution blocks, lounge, dining room and/or any other communal facilities that the Municipality does require for use by the occupants;

“Boarding House”: in accordance with the Ashburton scheme, means, a building, or portion of a building, other than a block of Flats, in which three (3) or more persons are accommodated for reward. The Ashburton Scheme does not impose the limitation of fourteen people (14) as does the Pietermaritzburg scheme and hence it is even more problematic than the Pietermaritzburg Scheme definition. In the interim, the precedent set by the Appeals Board ruling No 3350 pertains for the definition of a Boarding House in a “Special Residential Zone” as defined in the Msunduzi Schemes. The Msunduzi Public Health By Law of 2015 as stated above, prescribes that a Boarding House is designed for use, or is used for human habitation, comprising a number of boarding rooms and associated communal facilities. This byelaw prohibits the ad hoc use of any room under a roof and as per clause (a) –(c) of the Msunduzi Public Health By Law of 2015, stated above for accommodation purposes as is prevalent in “illegal Digs” situations and in applications which attempt to use all spaces of a residence for “sleeping” or “bedroom usage”.

(e) shall be conducted to the satisfaction of the Municipality, in keeping with the National Minimum Standards for in Tertiary Student Accommodation of 2015, Government Gazette No 897 and various noise, health, amenity stipulations such that social cohesion and human dignity are fostered in compliance with this Policy.

“Disability” The UNCRPD⁶ does not attempt to define disability per se, but rather recognises disability as an evolving concept. Disability is imposed by society when a person with a physical, psychosocial, intellectual, neurological, and/or sensory impairment is denied access to full participation in all aspects of life, and when society fails to uphold the rights and specific needs of individuals with impairments. Persons with disabilities experience three main types of interrelated barriers:

- (a) social barriers (including high cost, lack of disability awareness, and communication difficulties);
- (b) psychological barriers (such as fear for personal safety); and
- (c) Structural barriers (including infrastructure, operations and information) (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015: 5).

“Disability Discrimination” Discrimination on the basis of disability means any distinction, exclusion or restriction of persons on the basis of disability, which has the purpose or effect of impairing or nullifying the recognition, enjoyment or exercise, on an equal basis with others, on all human rights and fundamental freedoms in the political, economic, social, cultural, civil, or any other field. It encompasses all forms of unfair discrimination, whether direct or indirect, including denial of reasonable accommodation. (White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015: 20).

“Disability Mainstreaming” means a systematic integration of the priorities and requirements of persons with disabilities across all sectors and built into new and existing legislation, standards, policies, strategies, their implementation, monitoring, and evaluation. Barriers to participation must be identified and removed. The strengthening of families is driven by certain core areas, namely: family economic success, family

(White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, South African office of the Deputy President, 2015: 8).

“Inclusion” is a universal human right and aims at embracing the diversity of all people irrespective of race, gender, disability or any other differences. It is about equal access, opportunities, eliminating discrimination, and intolerance for all. It is about a sense of belonging: feeling respected, valued for who you are; feeling a level of supportive energy and commitment from others so that you can best fully participate in society with no restrictions or limitations. Inclusion implies a change from an ‘individual change model’ to a ‘system change model’ that emphasises that society has to change to accommodate diversity, i.e. to accommodate all people.

This involves a paradigm shift away from the specialness' of people to the nature of society and its ability to respond to a wide range of individual differences and needs. The intention of the Municipal Consent applications processes is to accord consideration of applications that have low impact consequences for the overall character of the zone in which such an application is located. In addition, Municipal Consent is accorded as a secondary usage which means that the primary usage intention must be adhered to. For example, the primary intention of the “Special Residential Zone” is to allow for development rights that are limited to low impact, family oriented, largely single story residential usage. The overall development impact per site is low with development controls that ensure a limited building footprint, large garden spaces around the building for tranquillity, low noise pollution and an aesthetically pleasing primarily residential environment that is valued by homeowners. Municipal Consent is accorded to individually considered, low impact, limited deviations from the primary usage. Consequently, the Boarding House approval is accorded as a secondary, low impact usage and cannot make up the entire usages of the building or site in a “Special Residential Zone”.

1.6 Application norms, procedures and standards

Before 15 September 2016, all applications for Boarding Houses, were made in term of Section 67 bis of the Town Planning Ordinance No. 27 of 1949, as amended (hereafter “the Ordinance”) in terms of which existing Schemes were established. The Msunduzi Spatial Planning and Land Use Management By-Law was promulgated on 15 September 2016 and repealed Section 67 of the Ordinance.

Consequently, all new Boarding-House applications shall be considered in terms of the Msunduzi SPLUMA By-Law of 2016, the KwaZulu Natal Planning and Development Act No 6 of 2008, the Pietermaritzburg and Ashburton Schemes, this Policy and other relevant policy and legislation as noted in section 1.3 above. In this regard:

- (a) The delegated planning official will advise the relevant planning committee on the normative, procedural, technical, and substantive merits of each application in a written report.
- (b) The relevant committee or delegated official considering the application must consider applications in accordance with procedural, technical and substantive requirements as defined in in terms of Section 46 (c) of SPLUMA which regulates applications in accordance with the adopted Msunduzi SPLUMA By-Law. This occurs through development regulated either through the Pietermaritzburg or Ashburton Town Planning Scheme areas or through Schedule 3 of the Msunduzi SPLUMA By-Law in respect of land within the Municipality, but outside either of the two current Scheme regulated areas; and
- (c) The registered Town and Regional Planner and delegated committee considers the application for substantive⁷, normative and procedural⁸ compliance with SPLUMA.

⁷ Substantive law addresses the reality of defining rights and duties, as opposed to the procedural rules by which those rights and duties are enforced. An application may be procedurally correct in that all the technical rules of the application submission are perfect, but if the application impinges on the right of neighbours to the enjoyment of their property in terms of noise pollution, obscuring neighbours access, and disregards health and safety duties the application cannot be approved from a substantive and normative perspective.

⁸Examples of procedural flaws include: all interested and affected neighbours are not informed; the application does not contain called for environmental reports; traffic-calming measures are not considered; incentive zoning called for in SPLUMA is not considered.

1.6.1 Nonconforming existing rights

Any existing building or existing use which is not in conformity with this Policy or existing amended Schemes , but for which legal authority was obtained from the Municipality prior to 15 September 2016, being the Adoption of the Msunduzi SPLUMA By Law; and /or prior to the adoption date of this Boarding House Policy, and which is currently used for the purpose for which it was designed and/or was completed legally and so used after the said adoption dates, may continue to be so used, subject to compliance with any conditions which may have been imposed by the Municipality in the application process, and provided that:

- (a) any alteration or addition or change of use which, in the opinion of the Municipality, alters the character of an existing building or use of land, shall automatically remove such building or land from the category of building or existing use;
- (b) where the free entry uses, written authority or Municipal Consent has previously been obtained for a specific development, the approval is deemed to be valid , provided that the general and other specific requirements of the Scheme for that zone at the time of approval are observed;
- (c) any subsequent alterations, additions or extensions to any building or additional uses within the building will be subject to the submission of a new Site Development Plan and a new Building Plan that are in accordance with this Policy, its amendments, Schemes and Building regulations operative at the time of the subsequent alterations, additions or extensions;
- (d) provided further that if, in the opinion of the Municipality, the character of the area will change as a result of any such alterations, additions or extensions, the Municipality shall require the applicant to apply for such authority or Municipal Consent , as the case may be; and
- (e) where the non-conforming existing use of any building or land is discontinued for a continuous period of 18 months or longer, such an existing use shall be deemed to have lapsed and shall not be recommenced.

1.6.2 Development rights, consent usage & policy compliance

The Pietermaritzburg and Ashburton Schemes accord development rights to properties and building processes in accordance with particular zones. These zones regulate permissible, prohibited, and Municipal Consent usage. All Municipal Consent applications have to be in accordance with Scheme Clauses inter alia, such as FAR, Coverage, Parking, Side, and Rear Spaces, Density and all policy regulations such as Norms and Standards, a Site Development Plan, Amenity, Noise Pollution and Universal Access. Table No 1 shows the Expressly Permitted Development and Municipal Consent rights in thirteen (13) zones where Boarding Houses can be developed in accordance Pietermaritzburg Town Planning Scheme of 2016.

As is shown in Table 1, the first nine (9) zones in the Pietermaritzburg Scheme require applicants to apply for "Municipal Consent" to operate Boarding Houses. Municipal planning officials and the interested and affected public can check the applications for compliance with the Boarding House Policy and Scheme regulations and recommend approval if it is compliant or recommend that the application be turned down if it is not compliant. Interested and affected parties can also object to the application based on amenity, procedural, substantive, norms, or standards flaws within the application. In addition the Municipal Consent accorded can be withdrawn if the Policy and scheme regulations are not adhered to. "Municipal Consent" should only be granted if the development intensity of an area and the character of the area are not adversely affected by the establishment of Boarding Houses. Such applications rely on the Town Planning Scheme, Policy intent and the discretionary planning skills of the planning officials and the Planning Tribunals considering objections to applications lodged that deviate from the intent of the "Special Residential Zone". Consequently, one of the intentions of this Boarding House Policy is to support of the overall intent of the Municipal Consent process particularly in the "Spacial Residential Zones" of the City that are experiencing a crisis in accommodation, largely but not exclusively, for tertiary students and working people seeking residence in the City.

Similarly, in a “Light Industrial Zone” where Municipal Consent is accorded to Boarding House usage, the primary character of Light Industry Zone must be adhered to and the Zone cannot become dominated by the secondary usage of Boarding Houses.

TABLE NO 1: PIETERMARITZBURG TOWN PLANNING SCHEME ZONES THAT ALLOW BOARDING HOUSE DEVELOPMENT BY MUNICIPAL CONSENT & FREE ENTRY USAGE
	Town Scheme Zones	Kind of Application	Boarding house policy Compliance Criteria
1	Special Residential	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
2	Intermediate residential	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
3	Limited business	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
4	General	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
5	Light, & General Industrial	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
6	Institutional	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
7	Public worship	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
8	Transitional Zone 1	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
9	Special Areas 19, 32, 41, 42	Municipal Consent	Application based on Scheme Clauses and Policy
10	Special Area 25	Permissible	Site Development Plan, Building Plan & Policy
11	Office & Transitional Office	Permissible	Site Development Plan & Building Plan: Policy
12	General Residential	Permissible	Site Development Plan & Building Plan: Policy

The subsequent three (3) zones in Table 1 are zones where Boarding houses are “expressly permitted” or are “free entry zones” where Boarding houses are permitted and encouraged to develop. These zones are specifically “Office”, “Transitional Office Zones”, and “General Residential Zones” where; the main character of the area is that of fairly high intensity office usage; or “General Residential” areas where higher density residential activity occurs. Such zones are characterised by blocks of flats or multiple residential units as opposed to the single dwellings of the “Special Residential” and “Limited Residential zones”. However, norms and standards are invoked in all zones in order to ensure that higher intensity Boarding House usage does not degenerate into “slum lording” and residential conditions for occupants that is detrimental to their health, dignity, independence, the environment, social cohesion, progressive rights, universal accessibility, universal design, inclusion, and the amenity of the area.

In the Ashburton Scheme, Municipal Consent applications for Boarding Houses are required when the property is located in the “Intermediate Residential Zone”. Boarding Houses are “expressly permitted” in the “Commercial 1 Zone” in the Ashburton Scheme where the higher density is encouraged, but also need to be managed through Site Development Plans, norms and standards in support of residential and commercial amenity at nodes or along activity spines.

1.6.2.1 In the areas outside of the Schemes, Boarding Houses are only permissible through Municipal Consent applications based on discretionary planning practice since:

- (a) the Msunduzi SPLUMA By Law which allows for development in areas outside of the Scheme, does not define Boarding House, as a permissible land use right in Schedule 3 for areas outside of Schemes. Consequently until such time as a “wall-to-wall” Scheme is developed or the SPLUMA By-law is amended to accommodate Boarding Houses, discretionary planning is required. In such instances:
- i. the municipal planning team must call for a Site Development Plan as defined in this Policy;
 - ii. the municipal planning team must call for a Planning Motivation from the applicant proving evidence for desirability, market demand and sustainability of the proposed development in the said location; and
 - iii. where the demand for the Boarding Houses is established, “Floatation and Incentive Zoning” is recommended for Boarding Houses as a consequence of the considerable costs associated with establishing Boarding Houses for poor communities and in accordance with the imperatives of the new generation Schemes as called for in SPLUMA⁹.

1.6.2.2 Planning officials need to be particularly vigilant with regard to Policy and Scheme compliance in “expressly permitted” or “free entry zones” because compliance is only checked when Building Plans are submitted for approval. Consequently all free entry Boarding-House developments must:

- (a) submit a Site Development Plan with the Building Plan for Planning Approval;
- (b) all Site Development Plans, as defined in this Policy, with Building Plans and building alterations, extensions and additions must comply with this Policy, its norms, and standards as prescribed by SPLUMA and other relevant legislation and policy; and
- (c) all Boarding Houses are required to register as businesses.

2. NORMS STANDARDS AND BOARDING HOUSES

In accordance with this Policy, the norms and standards for Boarding Houses are categorised into three sections:

Firstly, Boarding Houses accommodating learners and their caretakers within rural, peri-urban and urban areas where the ravages of the HIV and Aids pandemic has resulted in approximately a 42% infection rate in Pietermaritzburg in 2015 (<http://www.avert.org/professionals/hiv-around-world/sub-saharan-africa/south-africa>). Pietermaritzburg is known to be one of the areas with the highest incidents of HIV and Aids infections in the country. Consequently vulnerable children and young people up to the age of 21 are accommodated in Boarding Houses, SOS children’s homes, and orphanages.

Secondly, there is a serious lack of Boarding House regulation in the rural, smallholder, peri-urban and urban areas where farm workers, groomsmen, domestic workers, blue and white-collar workers are located.

Thirdly there is a critical shortage of accommodation for tertiary institution students resulting in unregulated and poorly managed “shack lording”, “slum-lording” and overcrowding of residential, urban and CBD areas in Msunduzi.

The terms of reference of this Policy does not cover the extensive research that is required to address the full range of accommodation facilities such as youth hostels, orphanages, SOS homes, public, and private school boarding facilities, farm worker accommodation, or people hiring informal accommodation facilities in informal settlements. Such research is urgently required for “wall-to-wall” scheme development but is beyond the scope and brief of this particular Policy.

⁹ After careful public scrutiny, this draft policy will be amended in the light of comments made and finally adopted by Council for application on a Municipal wide basis. Additional elements are consideration accorded to norms and standards as agreed to through official planning steering committee consultation and the subsequent public consultation process. This procedure of public scrutiny of the policy clauses in conjunction with the norm and standards that underpin the policy and the linkage to the strategic planning frameworks will be the first of its kind in the Municipality. This policy is the first step in implementing the integrated spatial planning and land use management approach based on the new legislation and new integration of norms, principles and standards with new forms of Zoning and transformative regulation.

The threefold distinction invoked in this section of the Policy can only be considered as a contribution towards a more extensive research and human rights investigation that is urgently needed in order to develop a more nuanced and diversified Policy and Scheme clauses. Such a comprehensive approach to Scheme clauses and regulation is required for “wall-to-wall” Town Planning Schemes and their associate Diversified Policy. In addition, Diversified Policy approaches are also heavily dependent on Precinct and Local Area Strategic Planning and Planning Design.

One of the recurring themes stemming from public comments and Municipal Planners administering Municipal Consent applications is the need for demarcated areas where Boarding Houses, particularly for student accommodation, can be established and areas where they are prohibited. This particular Policy cannot address this problem since it is heavily dependent on Strategic Local Area Planning and Design which is usually undertaken prior to Town Planning Scheme development and subsequent Policy refinement for operational activities. The Municipal Planners are fully aware of this dilemma and have put plans in place to address it.

In the interim, the norms and standards applicable to the regulation of the three categories of Boarding Houses as noted above, are shown in Tables No 2, 3 and 4 respectively.

Overall, farmworkers living in rural and peri- urban areas are still living under deplorable conditions such as by lack of access to potable water, adequate shelter, and poor health and education facilities. Security of tenure and access to sanitation are tenuous and inhumane. The research required to develop an in depth diversified Policy relating to boarding house conditions for workers in rural areas is urgently needed but has not been undertaken within the limitations imposed upon this project. Consequently, within the boarding house Policy, the following initial basic norms and standards shall be applicable as are shown in Table No 3, although it is understood that this is section of the Policy still needs extensive Local Area Planning, research, and development.

7.1 Area of application

This Policy is to guide the effective and responsible use of Boarding Houses in Msunduzi Municipality. When adopted, this Policy will apply to the whole area of jurisdiction of Msunduzi, including all areas outside of schemes at present.

7.2 Existing scheme regulations

Where an existing zoning regulation prescribes standard development parameters (i.e. height, building lines, parking), this Policy does not replace these similar provisions, but is applied where such a provision does not exist, or in addition to such provisions.

8. SCHEME IMPLICATIONS

The revision of the Policy has identified the need to amend the two Town Planning Schemes currently operative within Msunduzi, namely, the Pietermaritzburg and Ashburton Town Planning Schemes. Recommended amendments are held in Annexure C.

9. IMPLEMENTATION PROCESS

9.1 Transitional arrangements

On adoption, this Policy may only be applied to the extent that it doesn't contradict existing legislation, Scheme and By-laws or where an application for additional rights / land use change is being considered. Consequently, it is recommended at the Scheme amendments recommended by undertaken as soon as possible.

9.2 Commencement date

This Policy was adopted as an official Council Policy in accordance with the adoption resolution as attached in Annexure A and comes into full force on the date as shown in the adoption resolution.

9.3 Existing Policy repealed

The existing Draft Boarding House Policy is automatically rendered null and void with the adoption of this Policy in accordance with the resolution held in Annexure A.

10. LAW ENFORCEMENT

Section 87 of the SPLUMA by-laws provides for enforcement of the provisions of the by-law.

The above provisions give Council the right to investigate a complaint/alleged illegal activity, to ascertain the validity and/or extent thereof. It also allows Council to serve a notice on an offender to cease activities which may also include a notice of intent to take further legal action, if required.

The monitoring and control of the illegal entities will require a high level of commitment and dedication as well as co-operation between all role players including the South African Police Services and the Law Enforcement Section of the Municipality.

What is strictly prohibited in this Policy is the non-compliance with legislation. Offenders are subject to fines and closure and they may not continue the illegal activities whilst they make the necessary applications to legalise their activities. Applications can take a long time to process and the general public will suffer the consequences if illegal and uncontrolled activities are allowed to continue. Affected persons are known to be subjected to intimidation by offenders, making evidence needed for prosecutions more difficult to elicit. www.dsd.gov.za

ANNEXURE E: PROPOSED SCHEME AMENDMENTS

Proposed scheme amendments

The current Pietermaritzburg and Asburton Town Planning Schemes used to guide development in Msunduzi require significant updating. This is particularly as a consequence of the implementation of the Spatial Planning and Land Use Management Act, 2013 (Act No. 16 of 2013) and the associated promulgation of the Municipal Spatial Planning and Land Use Management by-Law of 2016.

Much of the existing schemes are closely linked to Municipal Consent procedures as contained in the Town Planning Ordinance, 1949 (Ordinance No. 27 of 1949) (TPO), but with the advent of SPLUMA, the ordinance has lapsed and new processes and requirements have been brought into operation.

The current schemes therefore need to be amended to:

- i) Encompass the new planning agenda and Zoning processes that are different in kind to those of the Ordinance era. .
- ii) The definitions in the schemes are outdated and need to be substantially revised in accordance with SPLUMA, norms and standards and the Boarding House Policy definitions.
- iii) There are some fundamental errors in both schemes relating to definitions and their application that need urgent attention

Recommended interventions

The following interventions are recommended: -

- i) Augmenting the current enforcement capacity and associated system of the municipality to effectively enforce and regulate its policies and Scheme.
- ii) There are considerable differences in the tone, manner and levels of technical accuracy in which the two existing schemes operate. This this could expose the municipality to various forms of litigation processes. Consequently the in depth consolidation of the two Schemes is required as a matter of urgency.
- iii) The development of wall-to-wall schemes is required
- iv) The diversification of the Boarding House Policy is urgently required for effective regulation of areas outside of the scheme
- v) SPLUMA calls for a discretionary form of innovative planning in order to stimulate competitive advantage in this era of austerity. The current schemes is at odds with this approach and is hence hampering sound economic development.

ANNEXURE F: SPECIFIC MATTERS THAT REQUIRE ATTENTION

Specific matters which require attention

The following matters requiring attention were identified.

1. Enforcement

The main issue raised by both owners and the community members was enforcement. A number of operators questioned the lack of enforcement against illegal operators. A similar request was made at the public meetings on 16 July 2016 and 27 August 2017. It is recommended that the municipality gives specific attention to the enhancement of its enforcement capacity. As mentioned in the Boarding House and Student accommodation status quo report, consideration should also be given to building on the ratepayers association through the formation of a formal, municipal funded monitoring and management group that are delegated in accordance with the Noise Control Regulations of 1990, in terms of Section 25 of the Environment Conservation Act No 73 of 1989. In accordance with this legislation, a delegated representative of the Municipality can enter premises, investigate noise pollution, and issue a notice prohibiting such a pollution. The penalty for noise pollution is severe and will soon restrict such activity.

3 Application costs

Stakeholders have questioned the fact that planning levies paid during application processes are high. Therefore it is suggested that the municipal application costs and advertising cost be re-considered.

1. Planning Tribunal Procedures

There is considerable stakeholder discontent regarding the procedural processes within planning tribunals and appeals processes. In accordance with this Policy and the legal framework underpinning the planning application and appeals processes, all decisions, including tribunal processes are subject to compliance with the following:

- (a) the Promotion of Administrative Justice Act No 3 of 2000 (PAJA) in accordance with Section 33 of the Constitution and the Intergovernmental Relations Framework Act No 13 of 2005 (IGRA) in terms of which everyone in South Africa is accorded the right to administrative action which is lawful, procedurally fair, just and accountable. This right includes the right to the provision of written reasons for infringements of PAJA and the imperatives of good governance and efficient administration of municipal responsibilities in accordance with this Policy; and
- (b) an “Interested and affected party”: means any person or body who, in accordance with the provisions of this Policy and the Msunduzi Schemes and adopted By-laws in terms of SPLUMA, has lawfully submitted, in writing, any objection, comment or representation, in respect of any matter regulated in terms of this Policy, the Msunduzi Schemes or any other legislation or policy applicable to the Msunduzi area of jurisdiction providing for objections, comments or representations. Consequently, the inalienable right to be treated with Dignity, to Administrative Justice, to Freedom from Discrimination of any kind and to Universal Access, with no exceptions, is strictly required in terms of this Policy.

4. Capital Flight or Competitive Advantage

The Msunduzi Municipal area of jurisdiction has been facing an accommodation crisis of monumental proportion for some time now. Strong and decisive leadership is required in order to address this impasse and the capital flight that is already underway in the wake of this crisis. Amending and consolidating the Schemes and the application of this Policy will form part of the solution to the crisis, however, area specific, Local Area Planning is urgently needed in order to augment the Policy and to manage the crisis instead of adopting a litigation, command and control approach. SPLUMA offers the Municipality a unique opportunity to address its distorted and spatially unsustainable regulatory system and the high demand for accommodation. It is therefore essential that the “wall-to-wall” scheme development, Specific Local Area Planning, and development interventions are initiated as soon as is possible in order to:

- (a) facilitate appropriate land allocation for accommodation development and development rights;
- (b) initiate new management protocols and innovative zoning mechanisms ;
- (c) address the demand for accommodation appropriately;
- (d) facilitate competitive advantage in the accommodation sphere; and
- (e) stimulate appropriate supply of land and incentives in order to address the existing demand for appropriate accommodation for students, learners, vulnerable people and children, workers, and farm labourers, in accordance with this Policy.
