Zuma calls on youth to follow Madiba's example

Former African Union chairperson Dr Nkosazana Dlamini - Zuma has called on young people to live a life of discipline by refraining from unhealthy activities.

She said this while delivering the Nelson Mandela lecture at the Pietermaritzburg City Hall on August 25. Speaking ahead of the Mandela Day Marathon, Dlamini-Zuma said sport was important and could be used to unite people.

"Madiba used sports to unite the nation and we all remember him donning the Springboks shirt, or arriving for a game in a Bafana Bafana jersey and how that impacted in the country," Dlamini- Zuma stressed.

According to the former AU chairperson, much can be learned from Mandela and his generation, who put the people ahead of themselves. She said the Mandela Marathon that is run from Pietermaritzburg to Howick should serve as a reminder to everyone about the importance of sports. She appealed to young people to be more involved in sporting activities and decried the use of drugs, teen pregnancies and levels of abuse.

Former African Union chairperson Dr Nkosazana Dlamini- Zuma who called on young people to refrain from bad habits and engage in sporting activities.

"We must speak out against levels of physical abuse and anyone who has an urge to beat people should take up boxing or martial arts and refrain from beating women," said Dlamini Zuma.

The event was attended by local mayor including Themba Njilo, Education MEC Mthandeni Dlungwane, Arts and Culture MEC Bongzi Sithole Moloi, local traditional leaders and councillors.

Struggle stalwart honoured

State President Jacob Zuma with KZN Premier Willies Mchunu and members of the Gwala family at the unveiling of the statue of struggle stalwart Harry Gwala in Caluza. The struggle stalwart affectionately known as "The lion of the midlands" was imprisoned twice in Robben Island and, according to Mchunu, his teachings on community development remained important. Gwala was born on November 19, 1919 in Swayimane outside Pietermaritzburg. He died on June 30, 1995. The statue is part of on-going work aimed at keeping alive the legacy of the fallen heroes and heroines who fought against the unjust apartheid regime and those who paid the ultimate price to ensure the realisation of a non-racial, free and democratic South Africa.

Firefighters and staff efforts praised in recent landfill fire

Msunduzi Mayor Themba Njilo has praised everyone who played a part in putting out the fire at the New England Dumping site saying their efforts ensured that a possible disaster was avoided.

"The city's sincerest thanks and appreciation to all the municipal staff, especially the Municipal fire-fighting units, the Working On Fire teams, and other municipal role-players who all played important parts in ensuring the fire was extinguished," said Njilo.

He also acknowledged members of the public who rallied together to keep the firefighters hydrated and nourished during this fire. According to the mayor, the city will meet with anyone in an open and transparent manner to listen to residents' frustrations and concerns over the dumpsite, whenever they feel the need to express them.

Local firefighters who managed to contain the landfill site fire.

All constructive and positive suggestions will be welcomed. In due course the city will release a comprehensive plan to deal with the challenges of the landfill site, its importance, alternative plans and a comprehensive waste management plan.

Mayor's Message Themba Njilo Msunduzi Mayor

Commitment to serve continues a year later

Education MEC Mthandeni Dlungwane was at one of the city schools to mark the 50 days countdown to the matric examinations.

That to me signals that the end of the year is upon us and it is amazing to think that August has come to an end.

With September upon us, the year 2017 is three months away from conclusion. To some of us it feels like a dream to think that it is over a year to the day that we took an oath of office at a packed City Hall and promised to work for our people. I am glad to say that all of us continue to work tirelessly as public representatives to ensure that residents of Msunduzi Municipality have access to top of the range services.

To this day we still remain committed to this cause and that is reflected in some of the projects that are underway and those in the pipeline. If one talks a walk on FJ Sithole Road one will bear witness to construction activity next to Sukuma Secondary School, a project which we believe will create numerous opportunities for our people. Residents will also note that there has been an on-going revamp of our roads because we do believe that road users should enjoy the use of safe roads.

These are just part of the programmes that we have undertaken and will continue to ensure that in each corner of Msunduzi there is activity whose end game is to bring a better life to all residents.

Looking back at the month of August we can reflect on some of the activities that continue to put our city on the map.

One such activity was the hosting of the Mandela Marathon which starts outside Manaye Hall and concludes at the capture site in Howick. Tata Nelson Mandela may be gone, but his commitment to the service of people continues to inspire all of us.

We have been fortunate to be visited by former African Union Chairperson Dr Nkosazana Dlamini Zuma who serves as an inspiration to many of us young and old, men and women alike. She too reminded us of the rich legacy that Mandela left us.

As we bid farewell to August it is important to constantly remember, acknowledge and applaud the role that women play in our society.

Furthermore we need to inculcate a culture among our young people to protect women, because if we do so there will be less incidents of domestic abuse. So to all men out there let us do right by protecting women because they are our mothers, wives, sisters and daughters and deserved to be looked after.

As I conclude once again I would like to urge all Msunduzi residents to #savewater, #stoplandinvasion, #stopillegalelectricityconnection.

Together we can do more. Let us take care of our beautiful City of Choice that is second to none.

City bylaws and their importance

In the previous edition we spoke about bylaws in our city and their importance for the well-being of the city.

A structure or organisation without rules runs the risk of becoming dysfunctional and obsolete and that is the reason that the municipality has rules in the form of bylaws.

Here are some of them and their purposes:

Advertising Signs Bylaws: To regulate the erection, alteration, display and maintenance of any advertisement or sign that is visible from any street, road or public place or on any Municipal Property. The municipality must grant approval of any such sign.

Control and Discharge of Fireworks Bylaws: This is to regulate the sale and supply of fireworks by licensed retailers as well as the discharge of fireworks in controlled environments.

Establishment of Special Area Rating Bylaws: To regulate the establishment of special rating area.

Fire Prevention and Flammable Liquids and Substances Bylaws: To regulate the storage of flammable liquids and substances as well procedures to be followed in the event of fire; to prevent fire as well as the storage of these items.

General Bylaws: These bylaws address a combination of various issues which are encountered within the City such as; Breaches of peace, Indecent Behaviour, Naming of Streets, Obstruction caused by Plants, Begging and Gambling.

Market Bylaws: These bylaws regulate the operations of the Municipal Market.

Bylaws Relating to the Manufacture, Storage and Sale Of Foodstuff: These bylaws regulate the production, storage and sale of food in relation to Hawkers' businesses.

Noise Abatement Bylaws:

To ensure that the noise levels in any premises does not exceed the ambient sound level by 7 Db (A) or more.

Parking Meter Bylaws: To ensure that the public parks in the demarcated parking places as well as to enforce the Municipal Tariffs as determined by Council.

Public Open Spaces Bylaws: To regulate applications for the use of public open spaces within the jurisdiction of the Msunduzi Municipality as well as to regulate the management and administration while in use of the public open space.

Smoke Control Regulations: To control air pollution caused by the emission of smoke within the jurisdiction of the Msunduzi.

Water Services Bylaws: To regulate the supply of water services and any services related thereto by the Msunduzi Municipality to the people within its jurisdiction.

Waste Management Bylaws:

To regulate the collection and proper disposal of refuse to ensure a clean and healthy environment.

Cemeteries and Crematoria Bylaws: To regulate the establishment of cemeteries and crematoria as well as to regulate the burial processes and any other services related thereto.

Credit Control and Debt Collection Bylaws: The purpose of these bylaws is to manage consumer accounts for any municipal services provided by the Msunduzi Municipality to the account holders.

Electricity Supply Bylaws: The purpose of these bylaws is to regulate the supply of electricity services and any services related thereto by the Msunduzi Municipality to the people within its jurisdiction.

In the next edition we will discuss the remaining bylaws because it is important for us as residents to know the rules that govern our city.

City hospital benefits from Mandela legacy

Former president Nelson Mandela's grandson Inkosi Mandla Mandela speaking at the handover of the Mandela Legacy project at the Edendale Hospital

Inkosi Mandla Mandela was among other provincial leaders at the official handover of the Mandela Legacy project at the Edendale Hospital's children's ward recently.

The Edendale Hospital children's ward was elected as a beneficiary of a R6 million grant, sponsored by Absa as a part of the Mandela legacy programme in commemorating Mandela month and the struggle icon's legacy.

Mandla Mandela, who was welcomed by Msunduzi Mayor Thamba Njilo, said that being in KwaZulu -Natal was always a humbling experience, specifically when the legacy of Nelson Mandela is reincarnated through actions that benefits the community.

"I am happy that this initiative merges two elements that Nkosi Dalibhunga (Nelson Mandela) held close to his heart, children and sport. My only hope is that this initiative grows from strength to strength," he said.

Umgungundlovu District Mayor Thobekile Maphumulo said at the Edendale Hospital, a day before the Mandela Marathon, that the process of choosing the hospital's children's ward was an easy task as children were close to Madiba's heart.

"This is a development to be effective from August that will see a vibrant atmosphere for the children," said Maphumulo.

Edendale Hospital CEO Zanele Ndawonde expressed gratitude that their calls to improve the facility have been heard as the children's ward is not in a "desirable state".

The hospital is a 900 bed regional and district hospital, and the funding will help strained resources in the hospital, Ndawonde pointed out.

Refurbishment will see a newly installed child-proofed play-room, beds, books and television sets, set to flight education programmes.

Manaye Hall project moves ahead

The historic Manaye Hall which is set for a multi-million revamp

The Msunduzi Municipality is forging ahead with the upgrade of the Manaye Hall and is in the process of buying properties next to the hall. This was revealed by Deputy City Manager City Entities and Sustainable Development Dr Ray Ngcobo at a recent Executive Committee (Exco) meeting where he outlined the process of the project. The refurbishment of the Manaye Hall includes, it being converted into a museum making it similar to the Albert Luthuli Museum in KwaDukuza.

The Manaye Hall, previously known as the Arya Samaj Hall, is housed at the ZIBUKEZULU Secondary School in Imbali and was the venue for the historic

All Africa Summit where Nelson Mandela made a surprise appearance and speech before being arrested just outside Howick in 1962. The summit was attended by Mandela in 1961 and served as the last platform he spoke at as a free man before being arrested and imprisoned on Robben Island.

"We have identified properties that are next to Manaye Hall and will purchase them at market value so that the process of building the museum will continue," said Dr Ngcobo.

He added that the property owners would be relocated to other areas within the municipal area.

Staff, councillors to learn about first aid

Staff from different municipal departments attended a first aid training course that was aimed at ensuring that staff was familiar with emergency procedure and treatment.

The departments of Water and Sanitation, Electricity, Roads and Parks were represented at the course.

According to the instructor, first aid knowledge was invaluable for both individuals and communities as it enabled people to assist injured persons or render assistance in an emergency situation until help arrives.

First Aid skills can be applied in the home, the workplace or in public locations, and according to the municipality the more people certified in first aid training in a community, the safer that community becomes.

Councillors and municipal staff observe as an instructor demonstrates Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) during an emergency

Staff learnt at the course that obtaining a first aid certificate not only benefits an individual but it extends to families, friends, co-workers and even the community as a whole. Accidents and emergency situations are not completely preventable or unavoidable either at home or in the workplace and that is why it is important for as many people as possible to have at least a basic knowledge of First Aid.

MSUNDUZI BRIEFS

- The Tourism Hub is one tenant short of being 100% occupied. This is a development that is in line with the city's vision of ensuring that municipal properties are put to full use. This was revealed by Deputy City Manager Dr Ray Ngcobo to Executive Committee (Exco) members in a recent meeting where he expressed satisfaction on the way the building was functioning. The hub currently houses a radio station, a tourism information centre, a restaurant and a municipal office.

- Exco members have expressed satisfaction with the construction of the athletics track, saying once completed it will give a further facelift to the KZN capital. The members paid a visit to the stadium where the construction team gave a brief overview of the progress of the track which is one of only three to be sanctioned by the International Amateur Athletics Federation. Both Mayor Thamba Njilo and Deputy Thobani Zuma said they were thrilled that the facility will be ready for use soon.

KERBSIDE RECYCLING

Call for recyclables collectors

Notice is hereby given that the Msunduzi Municipality seeks to engage with current and prospective recyclables collectors aiming to enter the recycling market; to initiate, develop, operate and expand kerbside recycling projects within the jurisdiction of the city.

- Kerbside recycling involves separation of recyclables at source by householders, the collection of these separated recyclables at source (at the household kerb side) and the selling on or further processing of collected recyclables
- The city will engage and encourage householders and businesses within its jurisdiction with the aim of separating refuse into the various types of recyclables at source, to make it easier and add value to collection for recyclers
- Prospective recyclables collectors must have their own suitable transport and if necessary temporary storage facilities and abide by terms of the National Environment Management: Waste Act of 2009
- The city will not be charging prospective collectors for the recyclables collected and sold and neither will prospective collectors be paid for the recyclables by the city. All revenue derived from the sales of recyclables will be for the benefit of the recyclables collector.
- Assistance and support in the form of training, networking, education and awareness will be provided by the city
- Recyclables collectors can be any legal entity: company, a co-operative, SME, an individual, NGO, or NPO, although small recyclables collectors will be given preference
- Willing and able recyclables collectors will enter into a written agreement with the city to collect recyclables at kerbside. The households will be divided into zones or areas and allocated accordingly, to respective recyclables collectors. Preference will be on a first come first serve basis.
- It is expected that recyclables collection will take place once per week.

“Sigququzele abazali abanezingane ezikhubezekile, ikakhulu lezi ezibonakalayo ukuthi zikhubezekile, ukuba bazihambise ezikoleni ziyofunda ngoba abanye abazali bake bazifihle izingane zabo,” kuqhuba uNdlovu.

Uphokophele phambili usomabhizinisi osemusha

Ikusasa lakhe uselilelele usomabhizinisi osemusha owaseMgungundlovu luSnenhlanhla Khumalo ngebhizinisi lakhe lokukhanda izimoto i-Auto Guard kanye neLamontage edayisa izinto ezisentshensiselwa ukuxhamana.

UKhumalo uthe ukusebenza kanzima nokuzimsela osekumsizile ukuba afinyelele kulelizinga aseculo kwibhizinisi. Uhambo lwakhe lokungena kwibhizinisi lwaqala eskoleni E-DUT lapho afundela ezokwakha eminyakeni embili edlule. “Uthando lokungena kwibhizinisi into ekade ngaba nayo, nasesikoleni ngangihlezi ngenza imizamo yokwenza imali, nokusiza abantu”.

Uphinde walandisa ngokuthi ubhekene nobunzima njengomuntu omusha waseMgungundlovu ngoba bancane abantu abazwisayo ukuthi umuntu omusha angasungula ibhizinisi, kakhulukazi ibhizinisi elihlanganisa izinto ezibalulekile njengemoto. “Izingqinaba into ekhona kodwa kubalulekile uthi ungaphazamiseki,” kusho uKhumalo.

Lo somabhizinisi unxuse abanye abantu abasha ukuthi bangene kwibhizinisi kodwa wagezelela ekuthi bekungaba usizo olukhulu uma uHulumeni kanye nosomabhizinisi abaphumelele uthi bafake isandla ekukhuliseni osomabhizinisi ababasha.

Local filmmaker is aiming high

Imbali born filmmaker Dr Lwazi Manzi says there are plenty of opportunities in the local film industry

For some, becoming a doctor is the pinnacle profession, but for Imbali born Dr Lwazi Manzi – the art of helping people through film-making is her true calling in life. This medical doctor is also the executive producer of the highly controversial film 'Of Good Report' released in 2013, continues her journey to solidifying filmmaking in KwaZulu-Natal.

Despite her continuously growing desire to grow film in South Africa, Manzi shared that the current space of the local film industry was not at a stage where we can call it an "industry" but rather a "service space", where the South Africa renders services to international production companies, making films in the country.

"Our country and province is rich in stories, we just haven't had the platform to reflect these stories using our own ideas and resources," she said.

She urged that young aspiring filmmakers, specifically female filmmakers should take advantage of opportunities and available gaps in industry by taking full control and ownership of their craft.

"The various platforms included the KZN film commission to bring your ideas to life," she added.

Through Mercurial Pictures, the filmmaker has demonstrated the need to bring cinema to the heart of local townships - where most South African stories originate from by bringing a drive-in cinema to The Greater Edendale and Umlazi Megacity.

"Audiences are developing over time; by constantly introducing content to them, after that there can be a growing demand for films in our city and province," she said.

City entrepreneur in line for national award

Hard work, determination and a desire to be independent has paid off for local hotelier Siphwe Ngcobo, owner of iLawu Hospitality Group.

Ngcobo, (37), who began his life as an entrepreneur with a tuckshop a few years ago, runs iLawu that has bed and breakfast outlets, lodges and a hotel and employs 100 full-time staff, 50 part-time staff and 50 interns.

Ngcobo has been selected as a finalist in the Entrepreneur of the Year competition which is sponsored by Sanlam and Business Partners and believes that working hard pays dividends in the end.

"When you enter the field of business you need to be driven by a desire to succeed and also to be prepared that results may not be immediate," said Ngcobo.

He rented a house in the CBD, and converted into a bed and breakfast (B&B) in 2009 and performed all necessary duties from housekeeping, cooking to making sure that all documents were in order.

As his brand started getting more recognition, Ngcobo continued to acquire and is currently converting an old hotel in Prestbury into a 100-bed four-star hotel with a new restaurant and a spa to add to the 40-bed Regal Inn in Chief Albert Luthuli Street, iLawu Lodge in Scottsville and iLawu Guesthouse in Newcastle. Ngcobo who is keen to share his business experience in order to motivate aspiring entrepreneurs was one of the speakers at the Youth Summit that was organised by the Msunduzi Municipality.

Municipality participates in Golden Games

The Msunduzi Municipality has urged locals to continue participating in the Golden Games, stressing that such activities enabled old people to remain healthy throughout old age.

This is after the municipality sent a team to participate in the Golden Games Selection process held at the Oval Stadium in July.

The games targets senior citizens aged between 69 and 80 years. All municipalities under the uMgungundlovu District provided teams for all sport codes to participate in the Golden Games.

Department of Arts and Culture and Health Solutions were there to show support and provide refreshments for the senior citizens. The Health Solution played a role in monitoring and examining the health of senior citizens at the event.

The Alan Paton Centre and Struggle Archives

Alan Stuart Paton was born in Pietermaritzburg in 1903, and studied at the University of Natal in Pietermaritzburg, taking a B.Sc degree and a Higher Diploma in Education between 1919 and 1924. He is most famous as the author of Cry, the beloved country, written in 1946.

He was an author, a politician, humanitarian and a reformer of the juvenile justice system. He was a founder member of the Liberal Party of South Africa (LPSA) in 1953, its National Chairman from 1956 to 1958, and its National President from 1958 to 1968.

The LPSA closed in 1968 as a direct result of the Prevention of Police Interference Act, which made it a criminal offence for a person to belong to any non-racial political organisation.

Shortly after the death of Alan Paton in 1988, his study was established as a permanent living memorial to him. These include his papers, manuscripts of his poetry and short stories, correspondence, archives of the South African Liberal Party Head Office in Pietermaritzburg, which had been forced to close in 1968, documents of organizations involved in the struggle against apartheid e.g. the Black Sash; the Detainees Aid Committee and the Five Freedoms Forum. Individuals involved in the struggle have also donated their papers to the Centre.

The Alan Paton Centre (APC) also houses the Special Collections of the Natal Society, which include books collected over the last 150 years, the O'Brien and Hattersley Collections. Recently, the archives of CINDI (Children in Distress Network) have been added. This is an archive with a library and museum component. An Annual Alan Paton Lecture is held each year as well as a Heritage Day

Seminar (Peter Brown Memorial Seminar).

Alan Paton is one of the five political struggle icons who formed the basis of the KZN Freedom Route launched in 2002. Other freedom route icons include Nelson Mandela, Mahatma Gandhi, John Langalibalele Dube and Chief Albert Luthuli.

KZN Freedom Route nodes include the Pietermaritzburg Railway Station, Manaye Hall, Mandela Capture site and in Durban include the KwaMuhle Museum, Cato Manor, the Inanda Heritage Route, which includes Mahatma Gandhi's Phoenix Settlement and Dr John Dube's Ohlange Institute, and the Luthuli Museum in Groutville.
